Secret admirers

★ A BEVY of sexy babes flashed the flesh yesterday and turned the heads of pop stars Justin Timberlake and Robbie Williams. Justin, 25, could barely conceal his admiration as Raquel Zimmerman, 25, shimmed past him in her bling bikini during the Victoria's Secret catwalk show at Hollywood's Kodak Theatre. And cheeky Robbie, 32, had the widest smile as he got to grips with Adriana Lima, 25.

Big Gurner

■ BIG Brother star Nikki Grahame showed off some remarkable and totally unexpected skills at a London celebrity bash... as a gurner.

■ The 24-year-old's face-pulling antics had ex-EastEnders and Bad Girls babe Nicola Stapleton, 32 (above right) looking on in amazement. No wonder Nikki's ex, Pete Bennett, 24, did a runner.

GARY SEES RED
AT PILOT'S VICE
CITY BLUNDER

BRITISH Airways has apologised to TV pundit Gary Lineker for suggesting he had been trawling the red-light area in Amsterdam.

The gaffe happened when the Match Of The Day presenter was due to board a UK-bound flight after England's friendly match with Holland.

The pilot was unaware Lineker, 45, had caught an earlier plane to London. And as the plane taxied to the runway he announced over the Tannoy every passenger had made the flight "except a certain Gary Lineker".

He then reportedly added: "I don't know what he's been up to this morning - but he's missed the flight."

BA held an inquiry into the blunder after "unhappy" Lineker - who has been linked with a string of women since splitting from wife Michelle, 41 - called it "a silly thing to say".

■ by NADINE LINGE

The Dutch city is famous for its sleazy red-light district, where prostitutes sit in windows luring punters and drug use is rife.

And TV chiefs are angry that Lineker's travel plans were revealed - they think it was a security risk.

Drugs

BA bosses have apologised to the football legend and a spokesman said: "The captain's very sorry for any offence caused to Mr Lineker."

"He made a comment and did use Lineker's name but he denies saying: 'I don't know what he's been up to.'"

A spokesman for former England striker Lineker said: "Gary's obviously not happy about this being said. He's letting it go over his head. He shrugged and said it was a silly thing to say."

The gaffe happened on Thursday's flight bringing England fans home.

A BBC source said: "Bosses are livid the pilot insinuated that Gary was up to no good in Amsterdam."

"The city is known for drugs and prostitution and they feel Gary, who is synonymous with the BBC, has had his clean-cut image damaged."

Sparks fly as boy wizard Potter has a wand-erful moment with Cho

HARRY: THE FIRST KISS

TORMENT: Harry's godfather Sirius

BLACK MAGIC: Evil Lord Voldemort

by NADINE LINGE

SCHOOLBOY wizard Harry Potter has his first-ever kiss – and it's simply magic.

Nervous Harry (actor Daniel Radcliffe, 17) finally gets to lock lips with pretty witch Cho Chang (Katie Leung, 19), who he has fancied for two years.

And Cho really casts a spell over him as they snog passionately under mistletoe.

But Harry, in his fifth year at Hogwarts, is again targeted by the evil Lord Voldemort who sees him as the key to his plan to rule the wizarding world.

He faces scary challenges and has horrific glimpses into the mind of Voldemort (Ralph Fiennes, 43) in Harry Potter And The Order Of The Phoenix – due early in 2007.

His godfather Sirius Black (Gary Oldman, 48) tries to help but is in hiding after being wrongly branded a mass murderer.

It's also time for Harry to sit his OWLs – the wizard equivalent of GCSEs.

And there's a new teacher, Delores Umbridge (Imelda Staunton, 50), who is determined to make Harry's life a misery.

Blur's girl share

BLUR broke Alex James used to share his toty with Oasis. Speaking on The Nation's Favourite Album on VH1, Alex, 37, said: "There was a small gene pool around us and the girls that were with Oasis one night were with us the next." Itchy.

JOE MOTT'S DOUBLE AWARD WINNING HOT SHOT

MOTT HMM. Someone, Jay Kay, has been putting weird hats on London statues. Jay Kay, The trademark spiky headgear of the Jamiroquai star, 36, appeared on the William Booth, Roosevelt, Churchill and Emperor Trajan statues. Could it be him...?

Movie mogul Wacko

HE DITCHES MUSIC FOR FILMS

PICTURE IT: Jacko's film move

MICHAEL Jackson is turning his back on music to make movies.

A wise decision, given that the former king of pop very publicly torpedoed any hopes of a comeback at the World Music Awards on Wednesday.

Mike, 48, stunned the audience at Earl's Court with a dismal rendition of We Are The World, which saw him booed so badly he left the country a day early.

Now the multi-million-selling faded star has pinned his remaining hopes of a career resurrection on Hollywood.

I'm told: "He knows the WMA didn't go well."

"He's a pragmatic man and realises his musical comeback has every chance of being a disaster, so he's diversifying.

"He wants to produce pictures that can be watched by all ages."

Bizarre

Jacko is in talks with a number of studios and private financial backers to launch his own production company that will produce family-friendly flicks.

I wonder if we'll ever hear the new tracks Mike's been collaborating on with Black Eyed Peas mastermind Will.i.am, 31.

Patience for Jacko's bizarre antics is increasingly running thin.

A graceful retirement out of the public gaze would seem to me the most sensible option.

But I think he's still got one more chance to come back and show everyone who's entertainment is really all about.

Just imagine if he did the moonwalk again. Front page news.

3rd Day have big night out

WHILE Chris Martin keeps it sensible - see below - it's good to know some are willing to take things to the max for the sake of rock'n'roll.

Take 3rd Day Syndrome. The fresh-faced outfit scooped Best Indie at the Windows Live Spaces Unsigned Band Competition at Camden's Barfly. The accolade came with £10,000.

Reassuringly, the band opted against an early night - choosing instead to spend the entire wedge on the mother of all bar-hopping rampages across London town.

3rd Day Syndrome - we salute you.

WIN COOL OASIS WATCHES

TO celebrate the release of Oasis' brilliant best of collection Stop The Clocks, I've got my hands on 10 money-can't-buy promotional watches. The round-up of the quintet's career to date features some of their biggest hits as well as the band's best-loved B-sides.

And it is out on Monday. So, in order to get your hands one of these highly collectable timepieces just tell me what suburb of Manchester the Gallagher brothers hail from. E-mail your answers to hot@dailystar.co.uk

Groovin' Gorillaz

DAMON Albarn clearly has no fear of getting his groove on. The 38-year-old Gorillaz man was on good form with fellow music envelope-pusher Fatboy Slim, 43, at a fundraiser in London for Aduna.

I'm bringing pointy fingers back, as you can see.

MOTT

BEVERLEY Knight has put the Queen on hold. The soul girl, 34, was due to pick up her MBE next month, but has postponed as she's on tour. A pal said: "She'll get it in February. It was unavoidable because of the tour."

SHOT

Chris gets a drink problem

RECORDING sessions for Goldplay's new album are being marred by Chris Martin's crippling new addiction.

The frontman has got himself hooked to a dangerously addictive new substance and refuses to record until he's had a fix.

He's got such a taste for his new drug of choice he's taken to placing wholesale orders so his voracious appetite can be slated. So, does Chris spend his time chopping out nose-busting lines of cocaine, injecting elephantine amounts of heroin, or sucking crack cocaine from a glass pipe?

Well, of course the well-behaved lad doesn't - he's addicted to fruit drinks. An Innocent Smoothies spokesperson told me. "Coldplay's personal assistant rang to say they're recording their new album in London and that our smoothies are part of their rider."

"They're getting through so many of them that she wanted to order them through a wholesaler." Rock'n'roll.

LATIN sort Shakira was honoured back home in Colombia with a 15ft six-ton iron statue.

The press release reads: "The statue does not gyrate. I had a picture of the statue not gyrating, but no space to use it. I hope that's not a decision I come to regret in later life."

WHAT BUTCHERS WERE TOLD TO PUT ON PRIZE BANGERS:

Our Welsh Dragon sausages contain 0% dragon meat

BANGER OUT OF ORDER: John Langford right, and the award-winning sausages

A BUTCHER has been ordered to spell out that his Welsh Dragon Sausages don't contain any real dragon.

Trading Standards officers have insisted John Langford's labels must make it plain the bangers are actually made with pork and chilli, not from a scaly, fire-breathing, mythical beast.

John, 43, of Welshpool, Powys, fumed: "It's crazy, really. We make Farmhouse

by IAIN BURCHELL

Sausages, too. But no-one would expect us to explain they have no farmhouses in them. "We had just Welsh Dragon Sausages on the packaging for our spicy ones.

Nuts

"We were told to put the pork and chilli on, so we have." Powys County Council insisted yesterday that the product - which won Pub Sausage of the Year - had to be labelled exactly. A spokesman said:

"This is to ensure that it complies with the Food Labelling Regulations 1996."

But Ben Beer, of the Plain English Campaign, said: "There is a very fine line between clear instructions and talking down to shoppers."

"A legal issue is leading to some very silly examples." Health and safety rules have already led to tuna steaks being labelled "contains fish" and Crunchy Nut Cornflakes warning unwary consumers: "contains nuts".

PARENTS have forced a school to back down over plans to serve only halal chicken on its Christmas dinner menu. Pupils at Oakwood School, Rotherham - where a fifth of the 1,000 pupils are Asian - will now also be offered traditional turkey. Local MP Denis MacShane said: "No child should be obliged to eat food that is contrary to their personal convictions."

AS STARS' FACES DROO

Michael Jackson, 48

WACKO Jacko claims he has vitiligo, which caused his black skin to turn ghostly white.

Rumour has it his obsession with changing the shape of his nose is due to him wanting to look different to his abusive father.

Transform says: "Michael has clearly had extensive surgical work done on his face. This includes multiple nose reshaping surgery, possible chin surgery and various non-surgical treatments - there is not a line on his face.

"He looks completely different to his younger days."

Leslie Ash, 46

THE Men Behaving Badly star had zillions of male fans but she couldn't resist meddling with her looks.

She fancied plumping up her lips with collagen implants but ended up with a disastrous trout pout.

Transform says: "Leslie has clearly had lip enhancement that she has reacted to badly - resulting in her current appearance."

CHAMPION STUFF: Hardy Eustace (right) has two hurdles' titles to his credit and will be a tough nut to crack at Ascot

Class can tell in Coral test

HARDY EUSTACE, the dual Champion Hurdle winner, has the superior class to take today's Coral Ascot Hurdle at Ascot.

Last season, in the Champion Hurdle HARDY EUSTACE (1.35) was far from disgraced when third behind Brave Inca.

This will be his first run over hurdles since his third behind Macs Joy at Punchestown in April but you would like to think he is ready following a recent run on the Flat. The conditions of the race will be ideal. He receives 8lb from Mighty Man.

The drop in trip should not be a problem for Mighty Man. He showed that he is one the best staying hurdlers in the country when beating My Way De Solzen over three miles at Aintree.

But he also has some decent winning form over two miles.

I believe I have an outstanding chance on TYSOU (2.05) in the Carey Group Handicap Chase.

There are a lot of horses with plenty of ability in this race who have disappointed - Mister McGoldrick and Nyrche are two of them. The expected

HEADING BACK: Brave Inca, left, can return in style at Punchestown

McCoy expects a Brave victory

BRAVE INCA will face four rivals as he bids for a repeat win in the Maplewood Developments Morgiana Hurdle at Punchestown tomorrow.

The Champion Hurdler faces a stiff task on his seasonal reappearance as he comes up against Tom Mullins' dual Grade One winner Asian Maze. Queen Mother Champion Chase hero Newmill makes his seasonal debut for trainer John Joseph Murphy.

Noel Meade runs his highly-progressive Itkifat. The field is completed by Silent Oscar, trained by Harry Rogers.

Brave Inca struck up a fantastic partnership with champion jockey Tony McCoy last season, culminating in a rousing success at Cheltenham.

That was the fifth win for the pair from only seven starts, but McCoy misses out at the weekend as his boss JP McManus requires him to ride Clan Royal in the Becher Chase at Aintree.

"I hope Clan Royal wins the Becher as that would make up for missing out on riding Brave Inca," said McCoy.

"You're always gutted when you can't ride any horse, but there are very few you don't want to miss and he is definitely one of them."

"He doesn't really want testing ground, but it was very soft when I won on him last year. I've spoken to his trainer Colm Murphy and he says he is in good form and I think he'll probably win. I certainly hope he does."

In McCoy's absence, Barry Geraghty has come in for the plum ride and is understandably delighted.

Delighted

"It's a great bit of news," he said. "He is a very good horse and it's a very good race."

"I haven't spoken to Colm, but I'd be very hopeful that he would win."

Geraghty and Mags Joy had to play second fiddle to Brave Inca at Cheltenham, although the pair managed to turn the tables at Punchestown in April.

"I'm really looking forward to riding him (for the first time). He's beaten me as many times as I've beaten him!" the rider added.

"He's a class horse and last year's Champion Hurdle was as good as there has ever been."

BANKER: The Couch reckons Kauto Star is nailed on for the Betfair Chase at Haydock

DETROIT CITY'S Cheltenham victory enabled me to pay my bar bill and I'm confident of giving the bookies another good hiding.

KAUTO STAR, in the Grade 1 Betfair Chase (1.50), run over three miles at Haydock, looks an outstanding wager.

The race is being shown live on BBC1, so be prepared to see Clare Balding with a dead animal wrapped around her shoulders.

Strongly

Paul Nicholls has assembled a larger number of fast horses than Taras Bulba, and Kauto Star is one of the best of the Ditchheat contingent.

Last time out at Aintree in October, the six-year-old hacked up by 21 wickets from stable mate Armatürk over two and a half miles. The way he finished that race, strongly suggests to me he will get this longer journey with no problem.

At first glance, the form may appear as useful as a rubber soap, but the runner-up went on to finish second in a competitive handicap at Cheltenham last Friday week off a perch of 154.

Kauto Star had the class to land the Tingle Creek Chase over two miles at Sandown last December, and with Ruby Walsh riding at the height of his considerable powers, Kauto Star looks a stone cold banking certainty. Baldy Brian, the founder member of the Locksbottom Tony Lewis Fan Club, was hosting a quiz at the Black Horse the other night and asked "what have the German army and Beef And Salmon got in common?"

Straight away Iron Bar - ask the girls of South London why he is so named - blurted out "neither have won on English soil."

Which was the correct answer. I very much doubt Michael Hourigan's talented performer on home soil, will break his hoodoo on our side of the Irish Sea.

Enjoy

Channel 4's mixture of the good, the bad and the down right incompetent, head off for some sand action at Lingfield, where the highlight on an interesting card is the Listed Churchill Stakes (3.15) run over 10 furlongs.

One horse who enjoys himself more on the sand dunes than my three-year-old offspring, Jamie, is MILLVILLE.

Michael Jarvis' six-year-old has won four times on the Polytrack, at distances

Sometime is a better over a Tysou acquainted himself well on his seasonal return at Cheltenham where he finished third to Rubberdubber.

In the Amlin Handicap Chase there are plenty with chances.

Reveille developed into a good horse last season by winning at the Cheltenham Festival.

But I favour the Philip
Hobbs-trained CHILLING PLACE (1.05). He may well have beaten Impek at Exeter had he not been knocked over by a loose four fences from home. That is outstandreturn at Down Royal.

Kauto Star will have plenty of supporters but the step up to three miles is a worry.

This race will be a lot different from three miles round Kempton in the King George, his intended target, where he can be slotted in behind.

In this small field it will not be so easy to get Kauto Star switched off.

His trainer, Paul Nicholls, can win with KICKS FOR FREE (1.20).
He's my idea of the winner of the Pontin's Holiday

I have included him in my 12 to follow for the season. He was a good bumper

READY TO STRIKE : Tysou has a great chance

ing form. At Haydock, I'm sticking my neck out by opposing Beef Or Salmon and Kauto Star in the Betfair Chase.

This looks an ideal for L'AMI (1.50). I have always believed there is a big-race in him.

He gave me a great ride in last season's Cheltenham Gold Cup
when we finished fourth behind War Of Attrition.

The ground was good on that occasion. He is a much better horse on soft which he should get today.

Kingscliff, last year's winner, will be a threat along with Beef Or Salmon who put up an excellent performance when beating War Of Attrition on his horse and made a promising winning debut over hurdles at Wincanton.

The Betfair Handicap
Hurdle is wide-open. I know BRANKLEY BOY (1.20) is fit. He looks a good each-way selection.

At Huntingdon, DEMPSEY
(3.00) can cause an upset in the Peterborough Chase.
He has some decent form when he completes.

Monkerhostin has solid credentials. He chased home Impek in this last year with Thisthatandtother in third.

The son of Millkom has an ideal draw in trap two,
and with 'Dazzler' Holland in the plate, he looks the one to beat.

My selection hosed up by five lengths on this surface over a mile and a half last race brimful of confidence.

to do with finding winners.

ful form under much faster conditions, and one of the best ways to get a few quid is always to back the top weight in these nursery events.

We are in for a treat tomorrow when BBC2 show the action from Aintree.

There can't be many better things in life than watching horses attacking the Grand National fences, and some animals take to the famous Liverpool spruce and others don't have the bottle for the task in hand.

Huge

LE DUC was second in the Becher Handicap Chase (2.35) last season off a mark of 136, so has every chance of going one better off the same perch.

Having Chocolate
Thornton taking over from Joe Tizzard is a huge bonus, and Le Duc looks a corking each-way wager.

O'NEILL: After more Aintree glory

Royal looks Grand

JONJO O'NEILL believes Clan Royal has a good chance of winning for the third time over the daunting Grand National fences when he lines up for tomorrow's Becher Chase at Aintree.

Successful in this event as well as the Topham Chase in 2003, the 10-year-old has run in the Grand National three times, finishing second in 2004, third this year and being carried out when leading at Becher's on the second circuit in 2005.

O'Neill said: "He's in grand old form and if he's ever going to win around Aintree again, it will be on Sunday."

Clan Royal is the best-backed horse with the sponsors and is their 5-1 clear market leader having begun the week at 8-1.

Damian Walker, spokesman for totes-port, said: "We thought Clan Royal's big weight might be against him.

"But that hasn't put punters off backing

■ by TONY LEWIS

him and they must believe Clan Royal's superb course form more than makes up for his 11st 8lb burden."

Dun Doire, who completed a six-timer last term, is expected to take to the National fences.

"He's done plenty of schooling and I don't think the fences will be a problem," said trainer Tony Martin.

"There's not a bother on him and we're hoping he'll run a big race."

Another leading fancy is Tanterari, fourth behind Hakim in the Grand Sefton at this meeting last year and winner of his last two starts.

His trainer David Pipe said: "He's got no weight and has been around there before.
He's schooled well in the week."

O'NEILL: The leader

Jonjo's Angels on top

by TONY LEWIS

LEADING trainer Jonjo O'Neill moved on to the 69-winner mark when The King Of Angels rode his luck to land the opening Nicholas Cunningham Memorial Novice Hurdle at Ascot yesterday.

Taking advantage of The Hollow Bottom's fall two out, Tony McCoy's mount responded to some strong driving and denied Lord Gee by a length and three-quarters.

"He will be a three-miler chaser in time, but he probably doesn't quite get that trip yet," said O'Neill as he explained the drop back in distance from his hurdles bow at Worcester.

O'Neill would love to hit the 70 mark this afternoon, but isn't over hopeful about it happening in one of the major races.

Iris's Gift represents him in the Betfair Chase at Haydock and O'Neill said:

"He jumped grand at Wetherby, though he disappointed me as he didn't finish well. But he was entitled to need the run."

HARDY EUSTACE is not the force he was when winning the 2004 and 2005 Champion Hurdles (finished 3rd in this year's renewal), but will be better than most after a decent effort on unsuitably soft ground on the Flat at the Curragh last month. Mighty Man showed himself right up there with the top stayers when beating My Way De Solzen 10-10 at 7/1 in April in which the top layers (who 4lb better off) finished 13/1 away in 4th. His main target was the Hurdle at the Cheltenham Festival (in which he finished 3rd last term), and he may just need this over a trip short of his best now. Desert Quest propelled himself into the Champion Hurdle recking when hacking up by 3/1 giving 10/1

EVAN WILLIAMS doesn't do 50-1 winners if he can help it. Yesterday, at Ascot, he couldn't help it, writes TONY LEWIS.

Court Ruler, a remote, but staying on fourth when falling on the ground at Taunton, improved dramatically to beat Hawridge Star in the Felix Rosensiel's Widow & Son Novice Hurdle.

Dashingly ridden by Wayne Hutchinson, Court Ruler battled on dourly to snatch the spoils and show that his future is very bright indeed.

Home-bred by Derek and Cheryl Holder, Court Ruler's dam Fairfields Cone won nine times over hurdles and her somewhat larger son could well emulate that.

Williams, who admits to having had a 66-1 winner too, prides himself on sending them to post fit and fitter.

"He has been terribly green," he insisted as Court Ruler slipped through the net to give the trainer his first jumps winner at the track. "He's been backward but has always shown a nice bit of ability. He will improve an awful lot as the years go by."

Williams is hoping to make it course winner number two with Demi Beau in the Carey Group Handicap Chase today.

STARFORM BLEAK HOUSE won a bumper in good style for Tom Tate here in April and began to pay back some of his expensive purchase price when beating Sandy's Legend by 2½ at levels on his hurdling bow (Aintree 2m110yds Class 3 midvgood) last month. Howard Johnson's four-year-old looks sure to build on that and is narrowly preferred to Kicks For Free who started at 2-1 when quickening well to beat Presentandcorcor 1½ on his debut over timber (Wincanton 2m 3 no hde/good) a fortnight ago. Placed in two top bumpers last term, Paul Nicholls' five-year-old will come into his own granted a stronger gallop than was the case at Wincanton but he may not get it again today. Self Respect was a beaten odds-on favourite on his hurdling bow before beating Moon Over Miami (grade 6b) by 71 (Kempton 2m 1st no hde/good) five weeks ago. He's potentially decent but needs to brush up his jumping (mildly over a couple of errors at the Sunbury venue). Mange Tout is very moderate and debutant Indian Pipe Dream (winner of a Newmarket h'cap off a mark of 92 for John Gosden just over a year ago), has a long absence to overcome.

2005: KINGSCLIFF, 9 11 8, (R Walford, 8-1) R Alner, 7 ran.

STARFORM KAUTO STAR has always looked a potential superstar and consistently impressing when giving 9lb and a 211 thrashing to stablemate Armatark (Aintree 2m4f g2d h'cap ch/good) last month. Today's longer trip should not be a problem and he can see off Beef Or Salmon who has never quite lived up to his potential on these shores but showed himself in good heart when defeating last season's Cheltenham Gold Cup winner War Of Attrition by a nk at levels (Down Royal 3m 4f ch/yielding) a fortnight ago. Kingscliff took more interest than he had on occasions last term when leading after the initial fading and finishing 19-4th on his last race at levels in the Charlie Hall (Wetherby 3m1f g2d ch/good) three weeks ago in which Iris's Gift (now 7lb worse off) finished 111 away in 5th. The latter, who jumped much better than was often the case last term, can build on that but will be hard pushed to reverse the form. Fifth over hurdles in France recently, L'Ami has to be respected on his 101 4th to War Of Attrition in the Cheltenham Gold Cup (3m21f 10yds g1 ch/good). Ollie Magern has lost his way since beating Kingscliff in the Charlie Hall last term.
